01 Introducing our brand

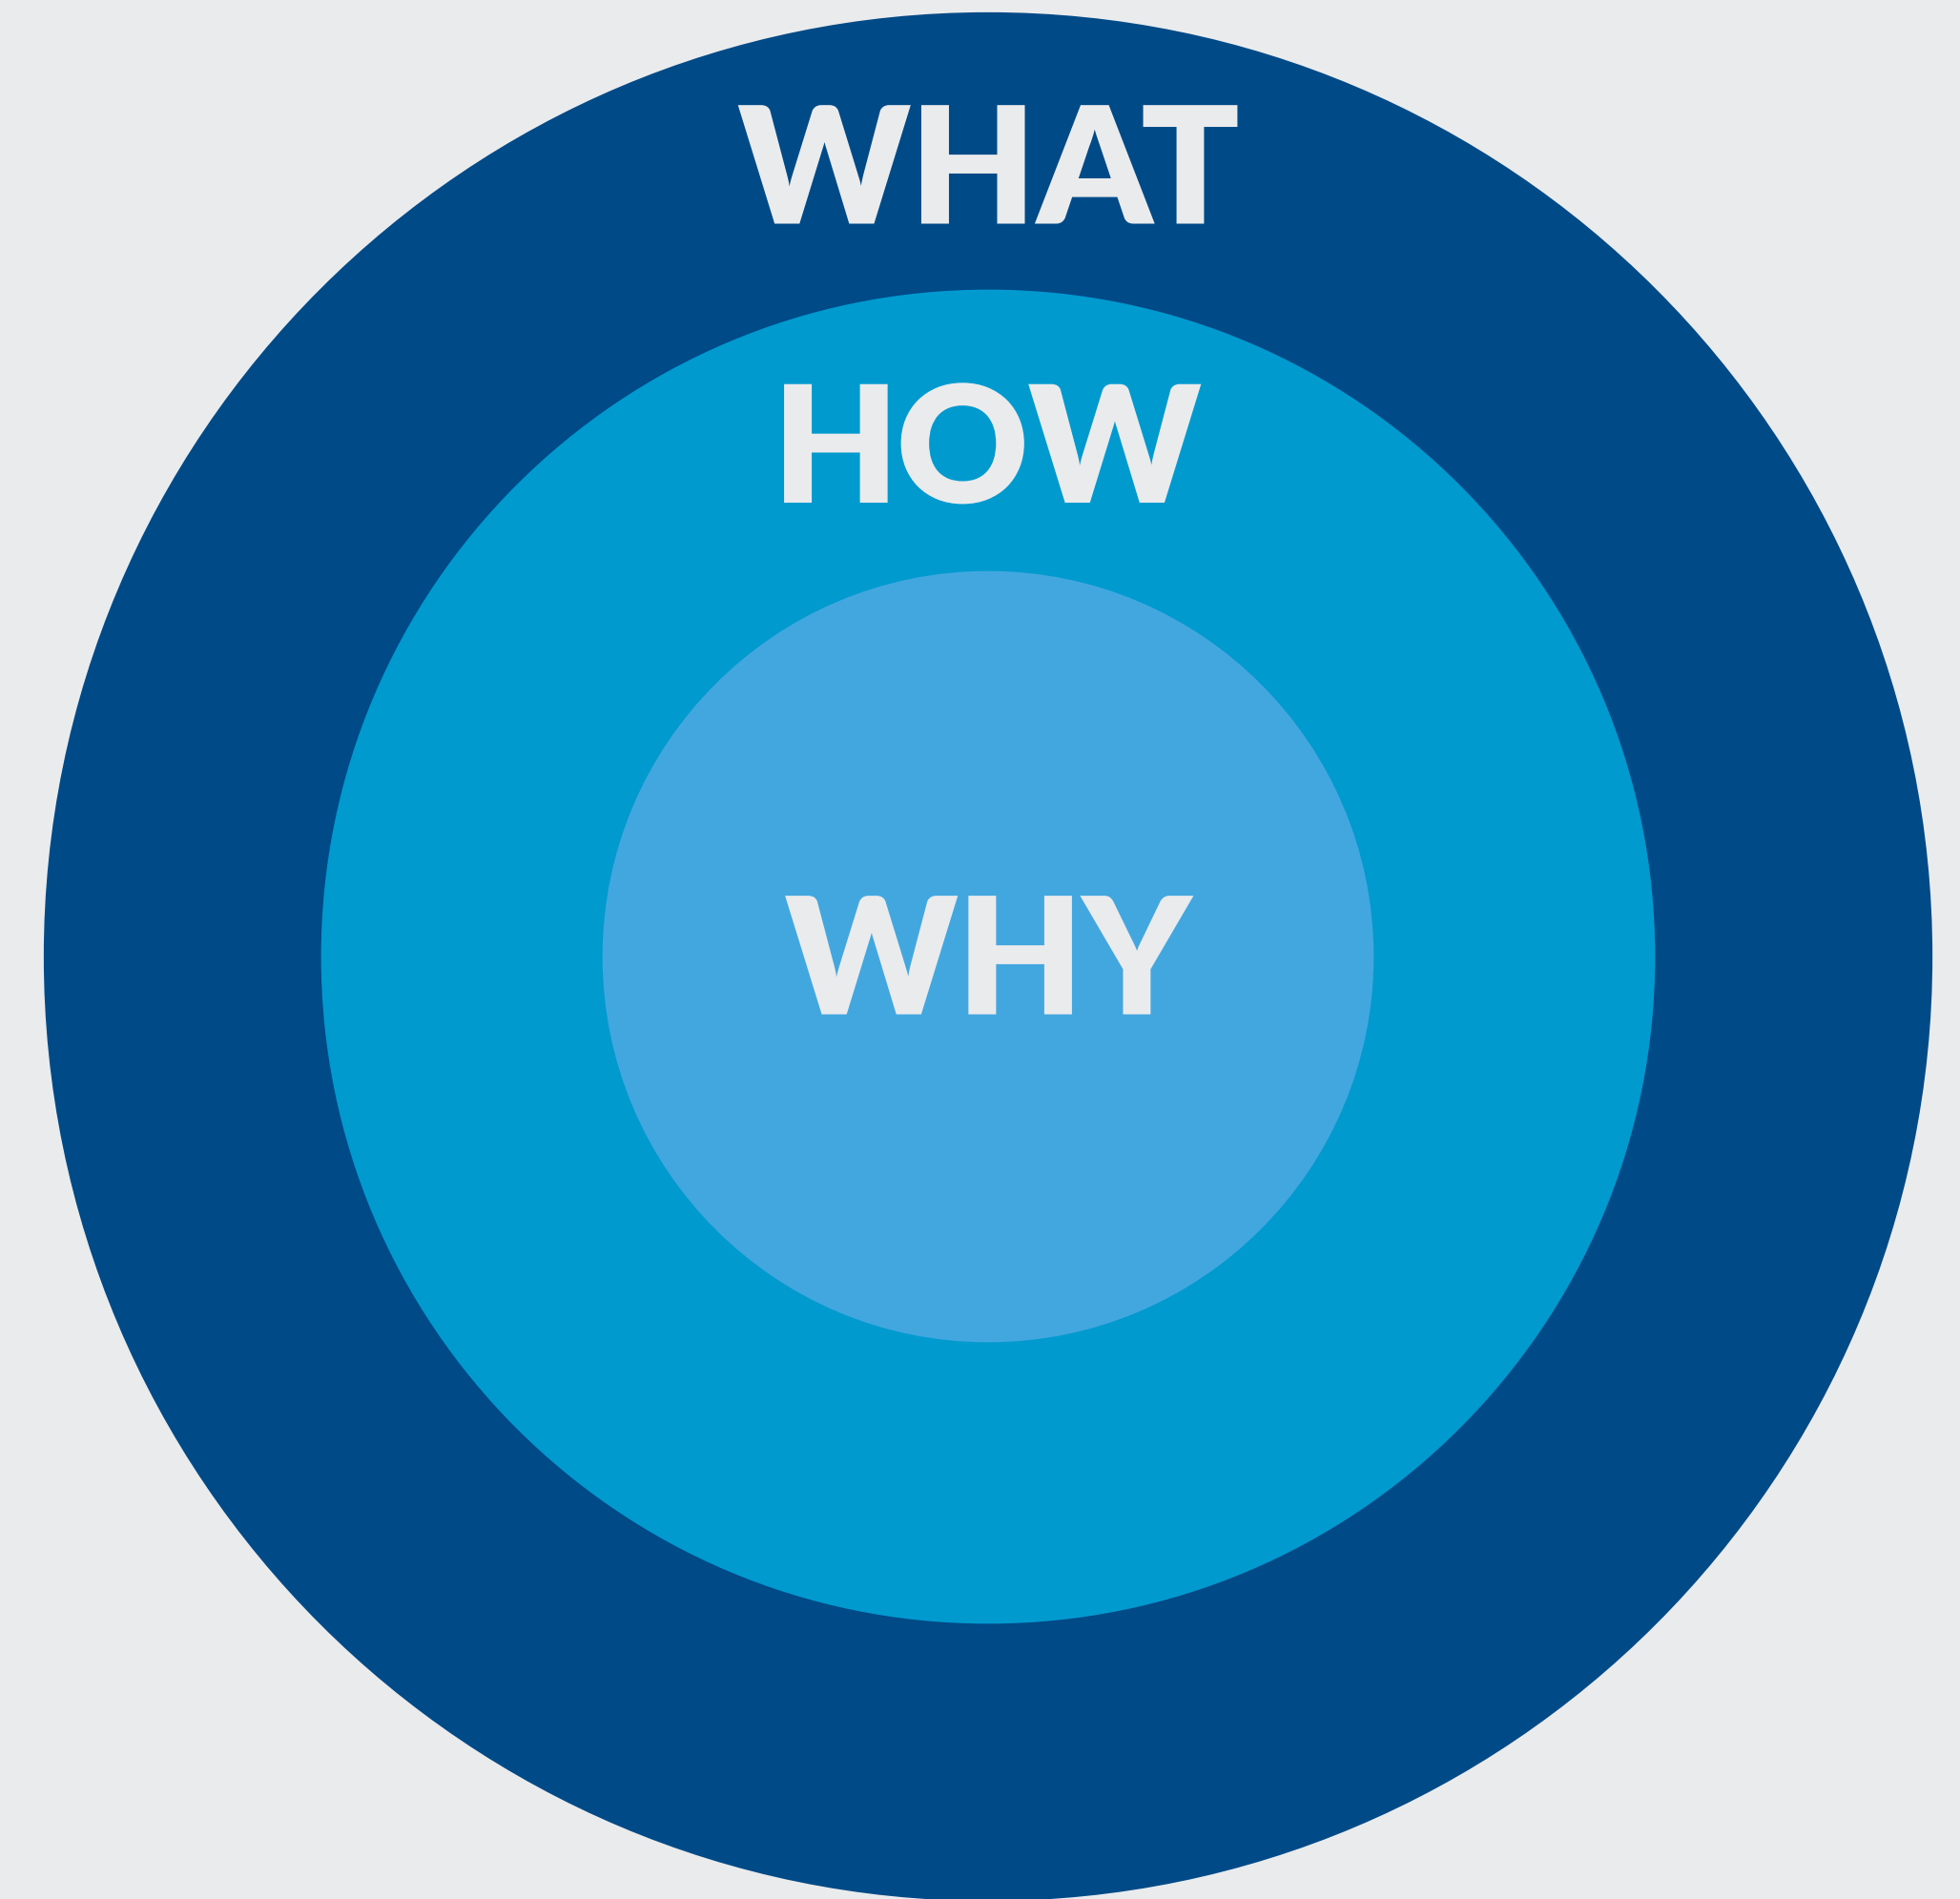

Components of our brand

Three key components that make up our brand are what, how and why.

The ‘what’ describes simply what we sell – our products and our services.

The ‘how’ describes how we sell this – our USP. This is how we differentiate from our competitors.

Most importantly, the ‘why’ describes why we do what we do. It’s the reason why our company even exists. Thus, it is key to understand that, “people do not buy what you do; they buy why you do it.”

What do we do?

Focus Asia provides tours of Asia for everyone.

We provide tailor-made, packaged and SIC tours at affordable prices.

We provide multi-country tours, design special interest programs, and even have our own hotel booking engine with exclusive rates.

Though our biggest asset is our multilingual, knowledgeable tour guides.

How do we do it?

We have offices located in over 20 countries worldwide, with staff capable of speaking European and Asian languages, providing service at any time of day.

Our destination offices are all led by international staff who have lived in the region for over a decade. They have both extensive knowledge of their countries and understand the desires of travellers.

We believe in having a small, yet expansive company spread across the world keeps our service personal and tailored specifically for each client.

Why do we do it?

We are in the DMC business because we believe that travel should be easy, affordable and entirely customizable.

02 Our Target Markets

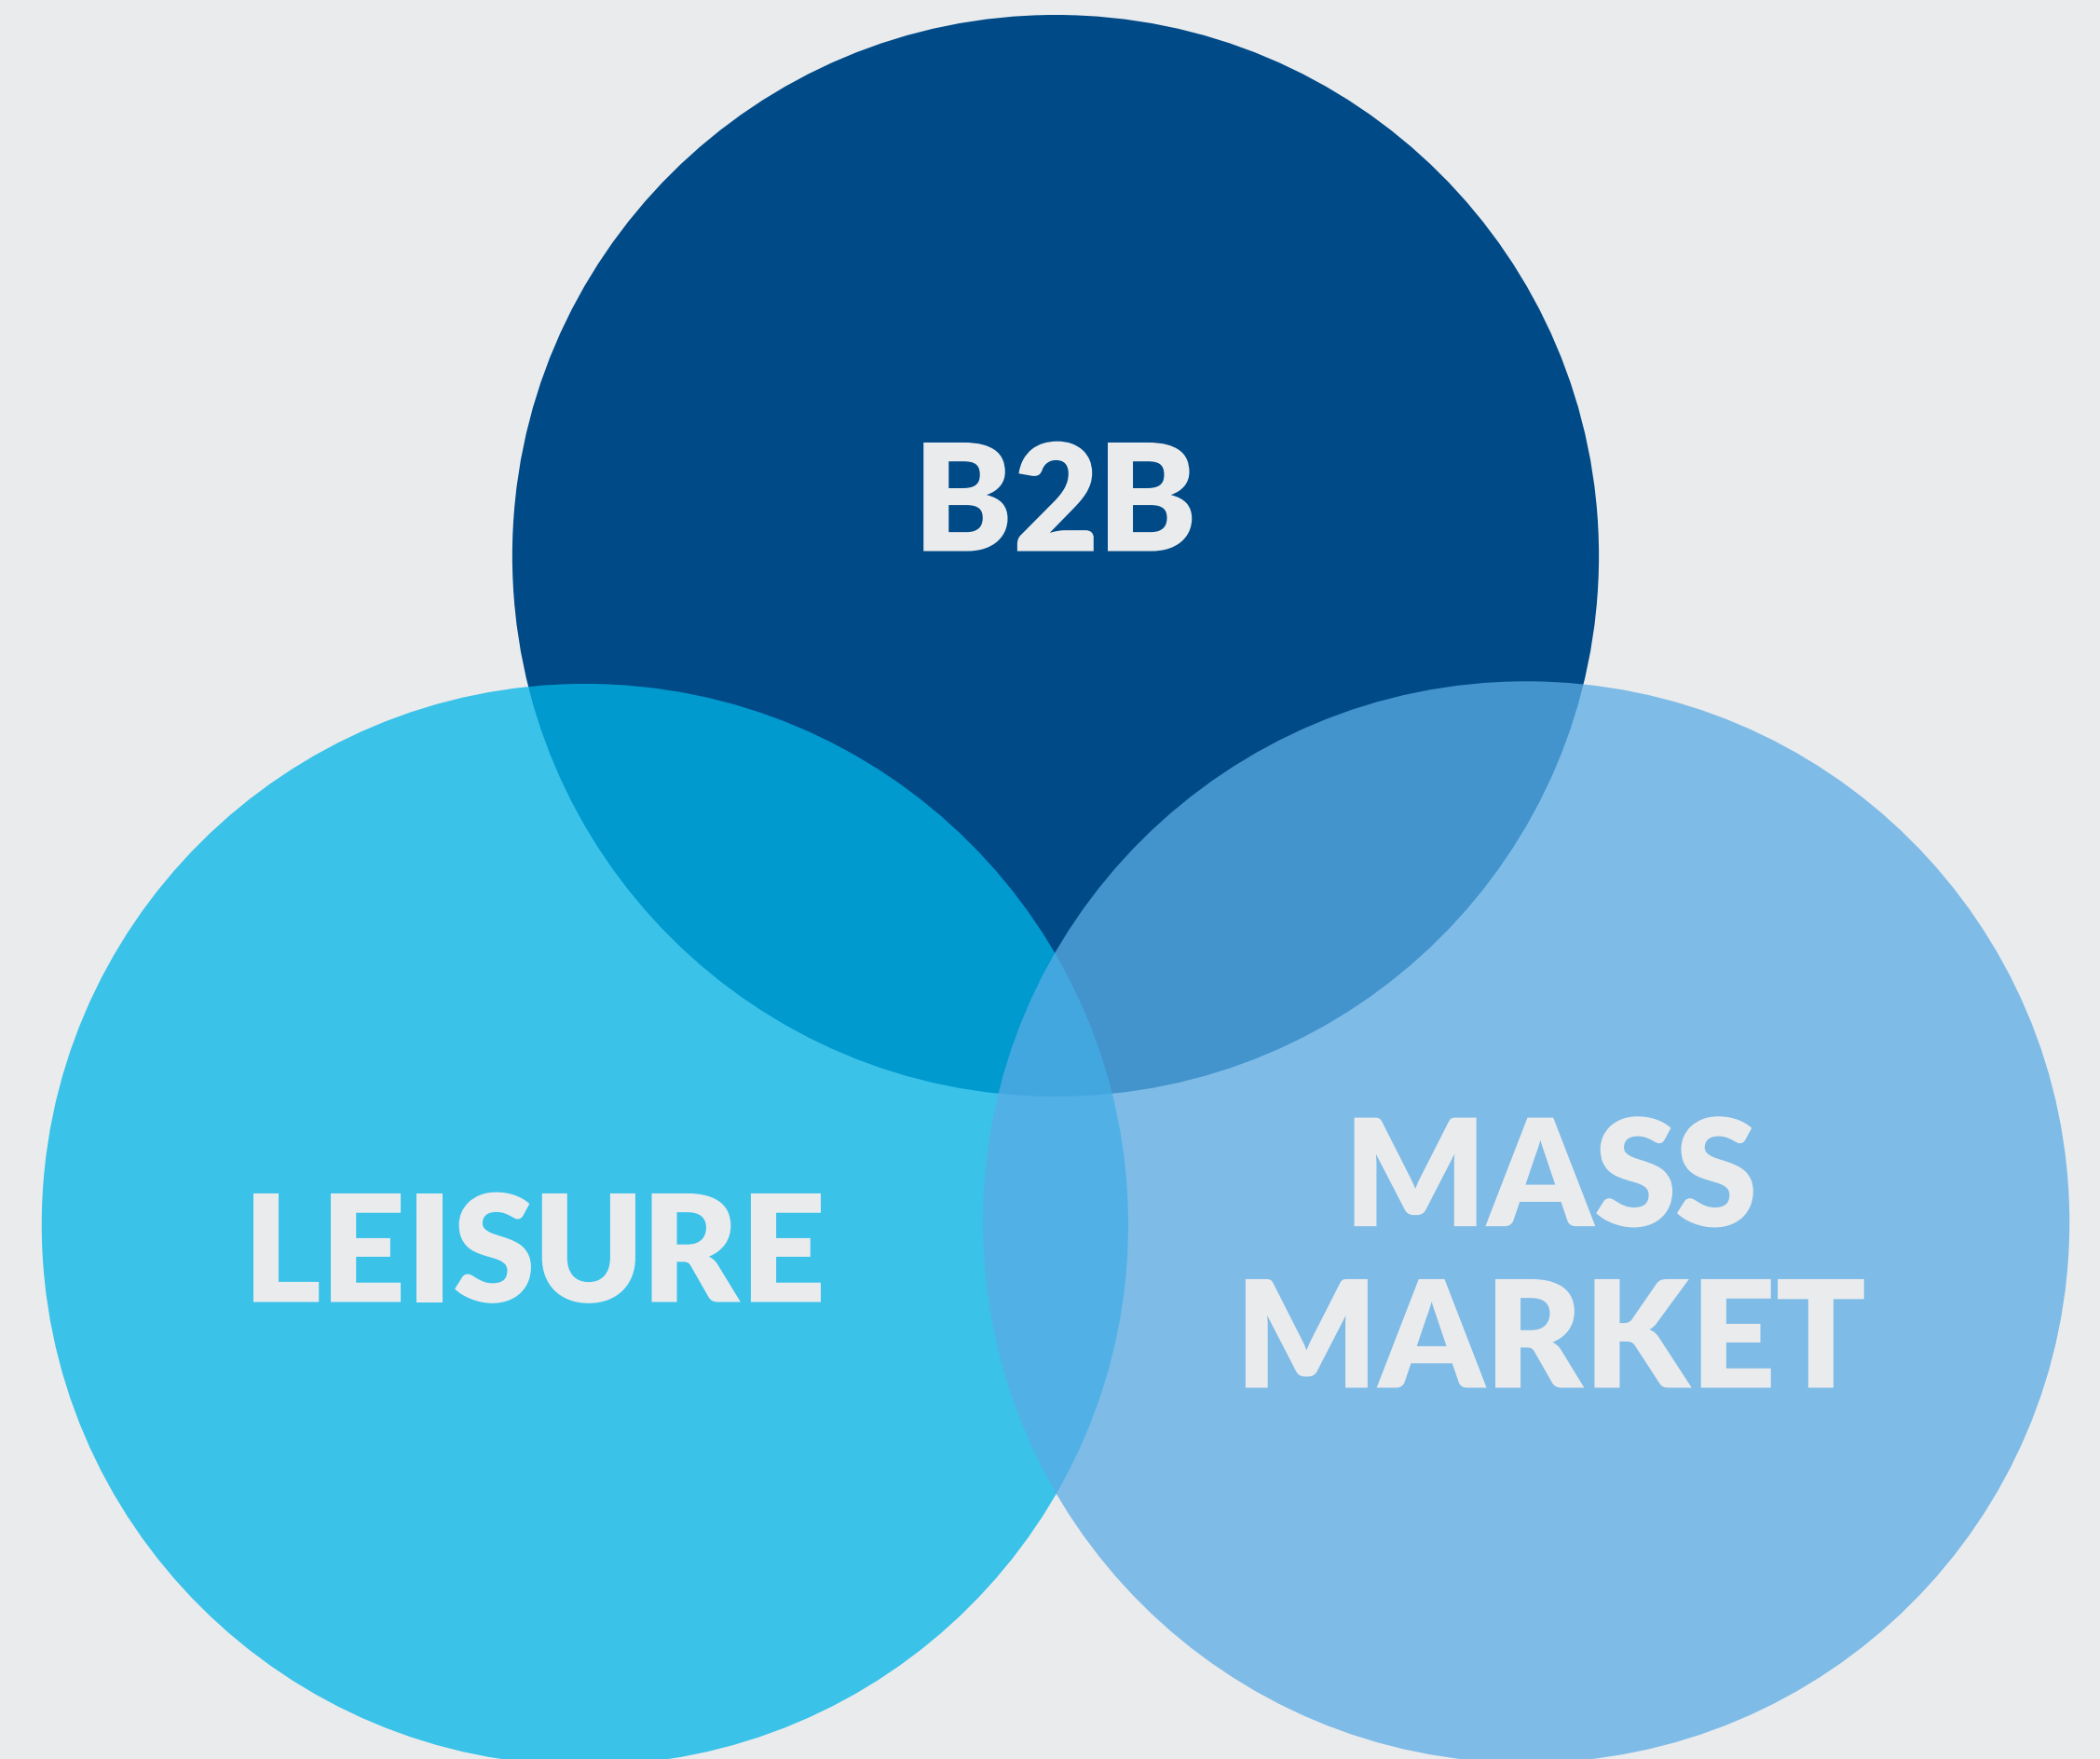

Definition

Focus Asia targets three broad tourism markets across the world: B2B, leisure and mass market.

We position ourselves as a simple, mass-market DMC with a lot of tourism experience at a reasonable price.

For these three broad markets we forge relationships with DMCs and sub-suppliers, retail travel agents, and tour operators.

Analyzing the markets

Our top inbound markets for travel in Asia are German, Spanish, Russian, Chinese, Australian and French.

As of Q2 2019, we have begun targetting the Middle East market, with an office set up in Dubai.

Future marketing efforts should look to capture the North American market – which has a lot of potential for growth.

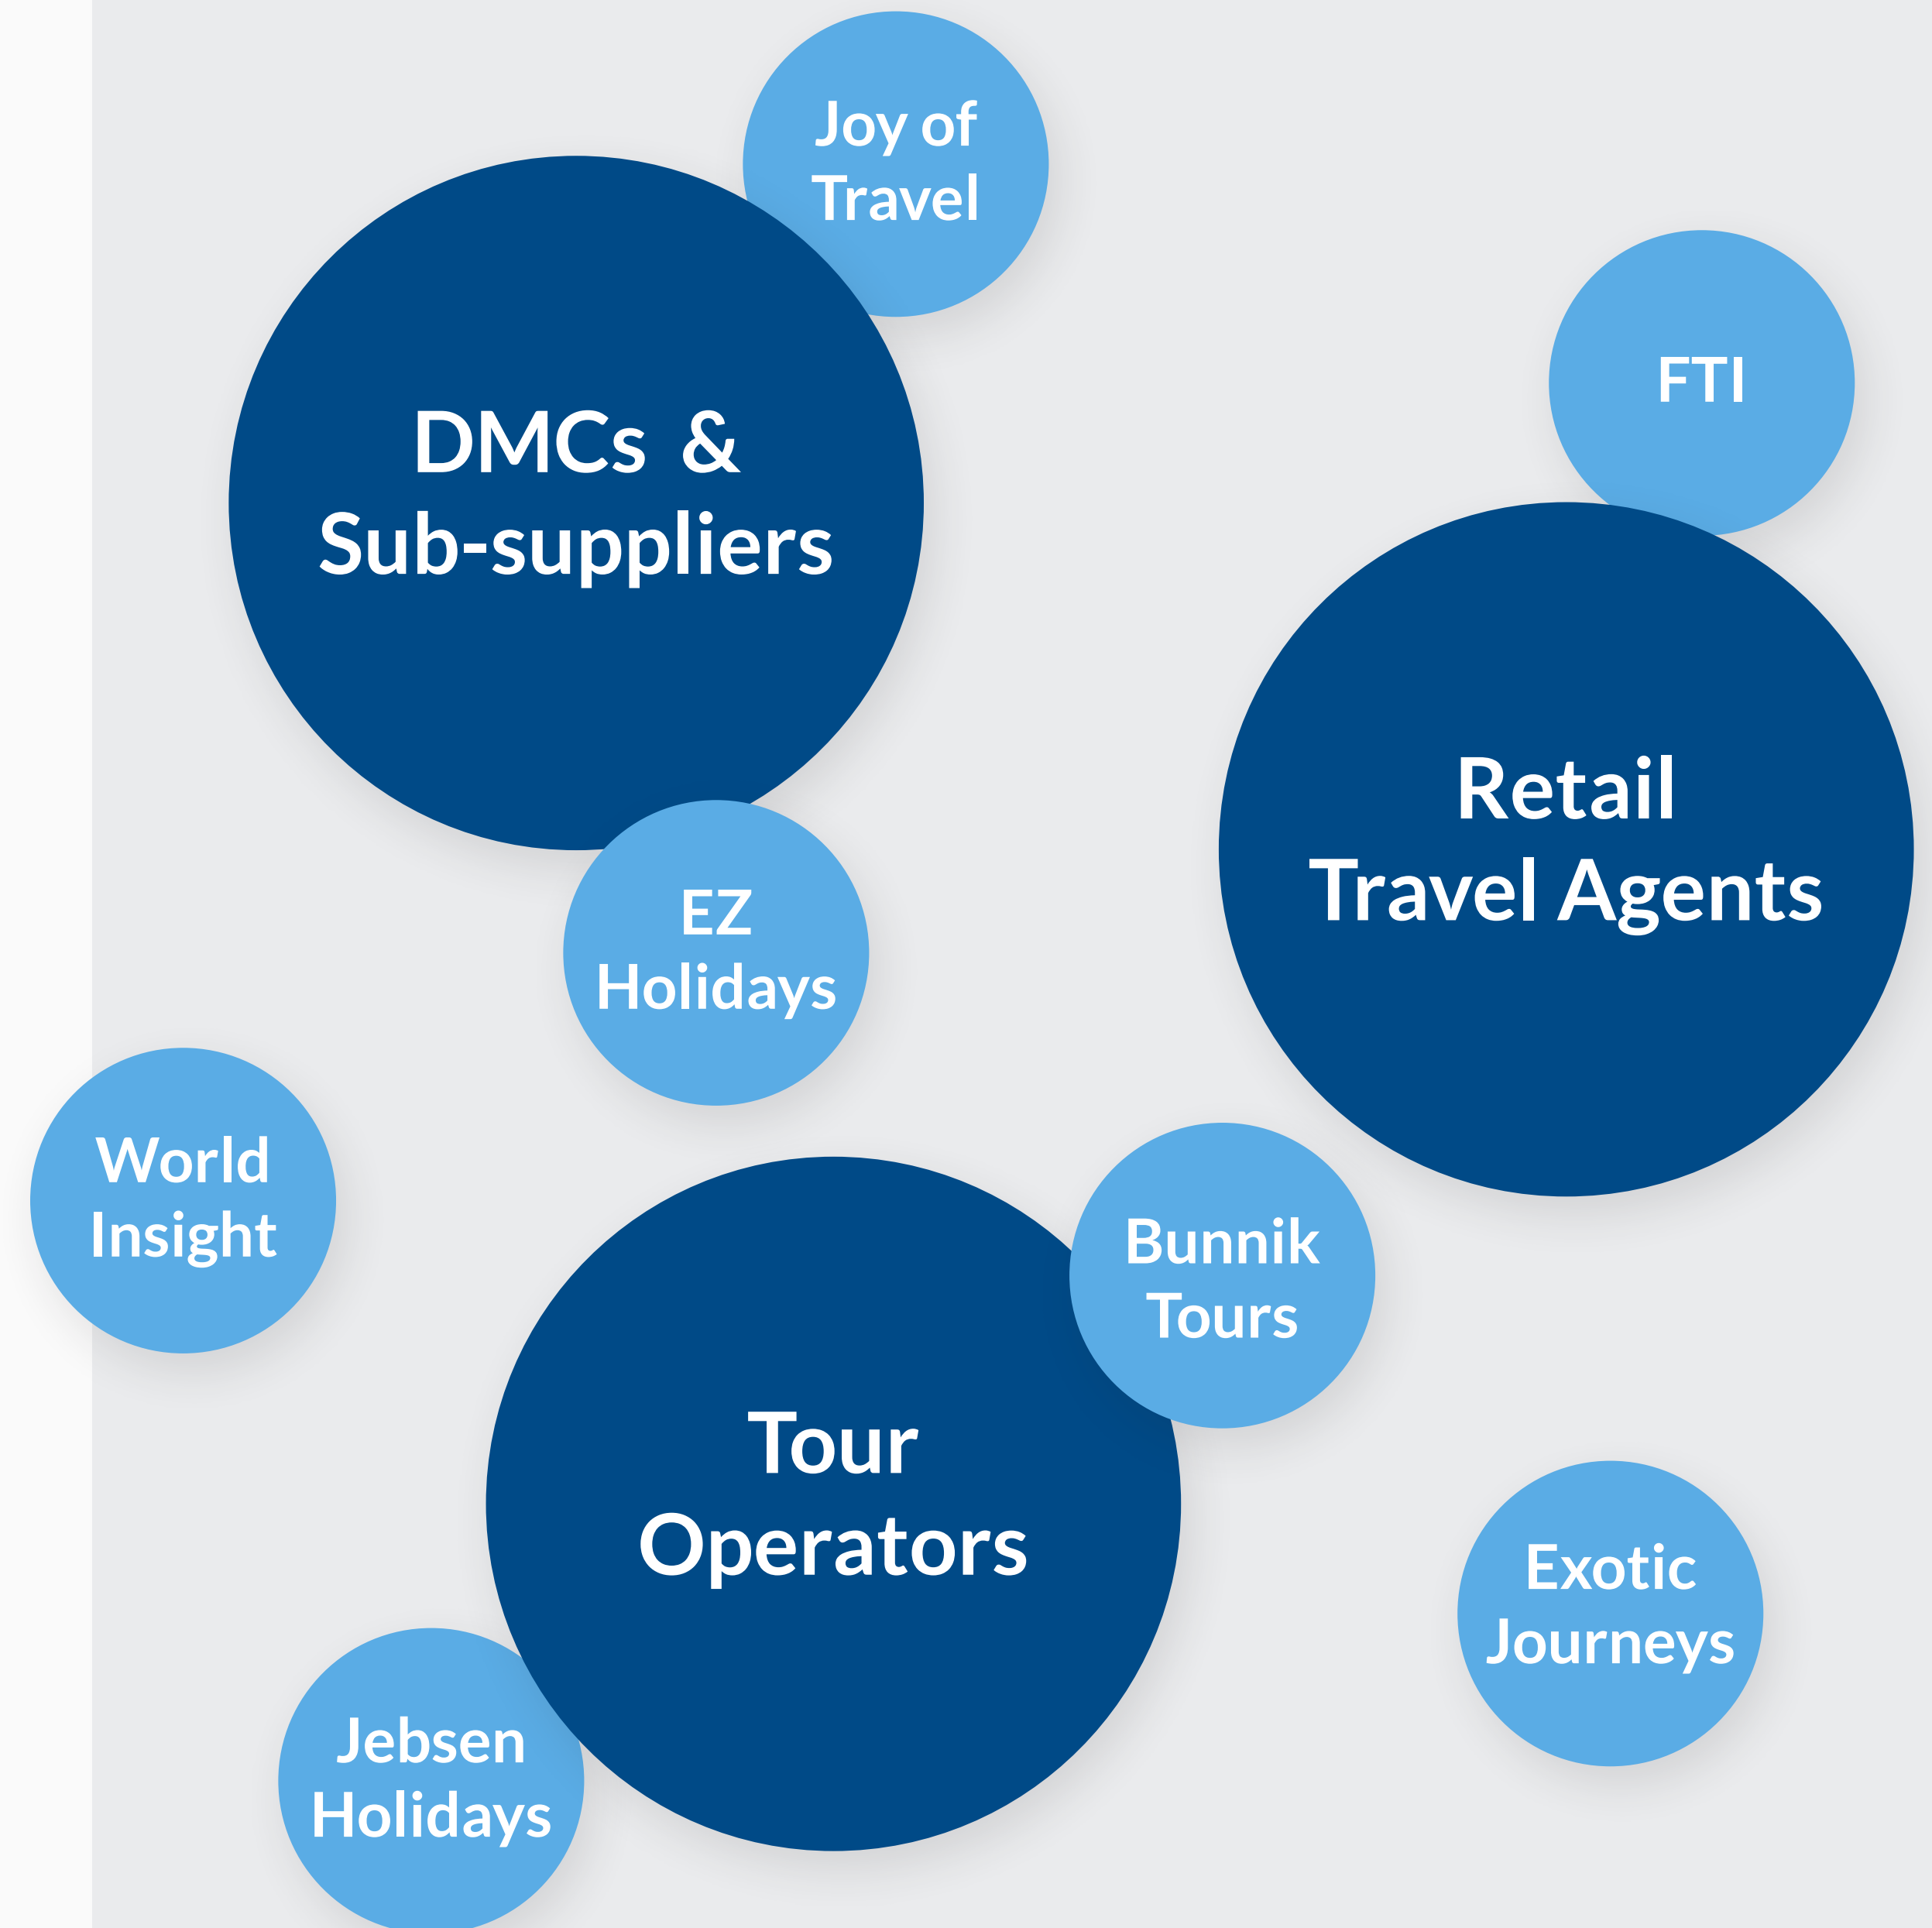

Audience

Our market audience consists of three broad categories: DMCs & sub-suppliers, tour operators, and retail travel agents.

Some of our key clients that we work with are Bunnik Tours, FTI, Joy of Travel, World Insight, EZ Holidays, Exotic Journeys, and more.

03 Our Visual Assets

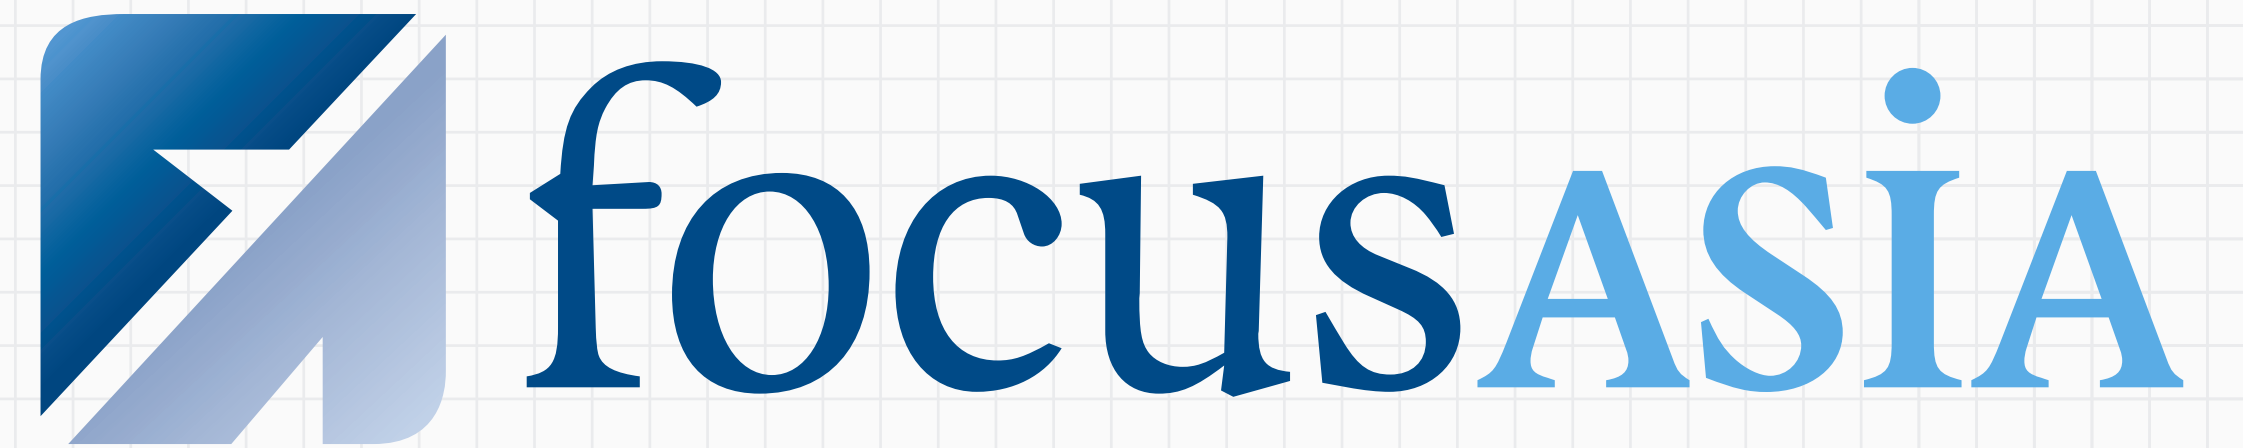

Our logotype & icon

As a result of our major rebranding in Q1 2019, our main logotype includes our revised tagline: Your Travel Partner in Asia. We are no longer listing what countries we operate in as part of the logotype.

Alternatively, we use the logotype without our tagline when the logo is reproduced small digitally or in print media.

Finally, our FA icon is our main brand identifier and must always use its custom blue gradient.

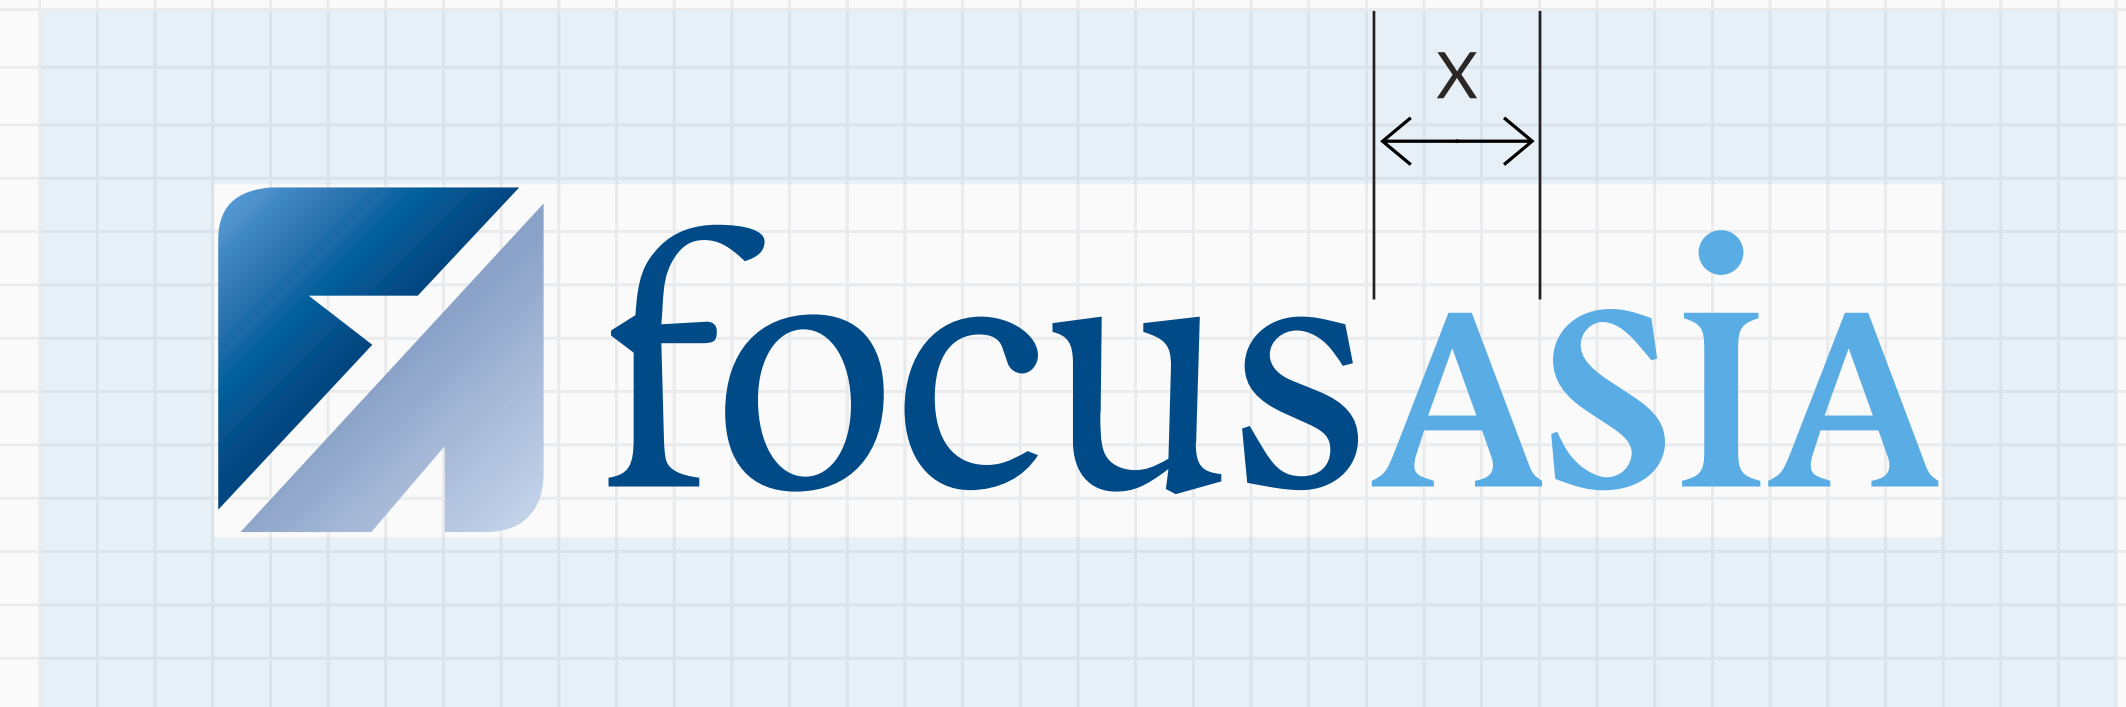

Placement & usage

Position, size and colors along with the spatial and proportional relations of the logo elements are predetermined and must not to be changed.

The clear zone refers to the “X” as a unit of measurement surrounding each side of the Focus Asia logo. “X” refers to the square width of the “A” in the logotype.

Due to the nature of our logo, the white logotype must be used when placing it on a coloured image.

Our brand colours

Focus Asia uses two shades of blue as our main brand identifier: a light blue (Pantone 284 C) and dark blue (Pantone 301 C). Everyone must follow the correct color codes for brand consistency.

We use our dark blue colour to draw attention to a certain word or button. Our light blue is used as a complimentary color in backgrounds or shirts.

This combination of blues gives off a sense of trustworthiness and calm to our B2B customers.

Our business cards

Our business cards features our classic look of two rounded corners with a refresh of the front map and back side.

Our frontside now features all of our countries we operate in, including China, along with our updated logo.

The backside now incorporates the website along with modern icons and a refined layout.

Our e-mail signature

Our e-mail signatures are coded via HTML to ensure that it is rendered in the same way across all devices.

The tagline is made with plain text instead of an image. This is to keep the logo smaller but still easy to read.

The signature is simple and clean, yet still retains key information for our clients. No more fax, email, or other superfluous text.

Our team photographs

The concept was to create a cost-effective, mobile studio to photograph our local staff together with country managers from each office.

We used the same background paper to create a similar look for each photo when placed in a grid.

Staff wore neutral, non-branded shirts in matching brand colours to create a casual, yet corporate look.

Props were used to make staff comfortable in front of the camera, and were an identity marker for our destinations.

Our tour collaterals

We have developed templates for all points in the tour creation process: tour programs, tour proposals, tour confirmation and welcome letters.

These templates follow proper branding style and are designed to be easier to read and gather information.

All templates are translated into German, French, Spanish, and Russian.

Welcome to Indonesia!

Salam Sejahtera! We would like to extend a warm welcome to you in wonderful Indonesia. It is our pleasure as your local tour operator to be at your service. We are dedicated to making your time here a memorable experience.

To start using your smartphone in Indonesia, we recommend joining either Telkomsel or XL. The SIM cards can be found upon arrival in major airports in Jakarta or Bali or directly from service providers.

If you are staying in Jakarta, we recommend using TransJakarta Bus Rapid Transit (BRT) or the Grab app on your smartphone (note that traffic jams are commonplace). If you are staying in Bali, we prefer exploring the island by foot or using a bicycle for a greener option to travel around town.

Your guide is your personal travel companion, so feel free to ask them for guidance on culture or places to eat. For emergencies outside of office hours, contact our hotlines below.

Tourplanner edition 11

The 11th Edition will continue from where we left off with our previous 10th Anniversary Edition. Minor design tweaks and content will be included, including our formal introduction of China as our latest destination.

Our 10th Edition moved away from a style that resembles a reference book or an encyclopedia and incorporated aspects of a travel magazine. Rather than only listing itineraries, we focused on sharing more about a country through local tips, unique excursions, a foodie guide, and notes from our team.

The major redesign increased our ad revenue but also substantially reduced our page count, making it lighter to carry and less costly to print.

ASIA ON STAGE

At ITB 2019, we unveiled our ‘Asia On Stage’ concept – a full stage featuring guest speakers to insightful tips and adventures in our destinations.

Marketing activities surrounding this event featured A5 flyers, roll-up banners and an in-house developed microsite.

ITB 2020 Booth Design

Our current trade show design is dated, and significantly lacks a strong message and missing captivating content.

Focus Asia's current message is "Focus on People," and displays a large collage of local faces of people in Asia.

Refine Asia's part of the booth still feature the old branding, old messaging and incorrect information.

Asia Reps could use a new refresh as well along with an overhaul of the entire booth for ITB 2020.

04 Marketing Newsletters

Newsletter Strategy

Focus Asia develops a yearly email marketing plan which helps with content planning and documenting analytics.

We send out 2 marketing emails per week to our 8,500+ contacts.

Our yearly open rate (OR) is around 18%, with a click through rate (CTR) of 3%.
